GIrl GUIDE NEWS

On June the 20th, the ceremony for the investiture of the Girl Guides took place at Scout headquarters. The Guides who had passed their tenderfoot tests received their badges. Mrs. Hill, president of the Guide association, presented the badges.

The material for the uniforms has arrived, and will be made up this week.

During the month of June, the Guides went on a hike to No. 1 camp. A Scout party went ahead and left woodcraft signs for the others to follow. The Guides roasted weiners and scrambled eggs and made coffee on the open camp fire. Then they played games until time to go home.

During the summer, the meetings will take the form of hikes and picnics, and the Guides will learn the subjects which are to be taught in the open air.

THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

The first Imperial Conference will be held outside the British Capital on July 21. The British Isles and all of the Dominion within the Empire will be represented at this conference, where Imperial trade relations and other matters of prime importance to the British Commonwealth of Nations will be discussed. The business meetings of the conference will be held in the Parliament Buildings, but the delegates will all make their headquarters at the Canadian National Hotel, Laurier Hotel which is within sight of the House of Commons. The delegates to the conference represent a total population of 450,000,000 people and countries that occupy an area of 19,909,782 square miles; or about one quarter of the known surface of the globe. Of this population about 36,000,000 are whites. The remainder include 315,000,000 of the native races of Ceylon and India; 40,000,000 of the black races; 6,000,000 Arabs; 6,000,000 Malays; 1,000,000 Chinese and 1,000,000 Polynesians and various other elements. The religious represented include 310,000,000 Hindus; 100,000,000 Mohammedans; 90,000,000 Christians, of which 67,000,000 are classed as Protestants; 12,000,000 Buddhists; 12,000,000 Animists; 4,000,000 Sikhs, Jains and Parsees; 750,000 Jews and the remainder Polythists.

PIICNICKING was enjoyed by a large number of Bellevue people on Sunday at the South Fork bridge. Softball games were enjoyed by all.

The radicals staged a kiddie parade on Tuesday afternoon. There is not much admiration for the leaders who will allow such little tots to parade.

WILL BUILD BRIDGE ACROSS KOTONAI, BONNERS FERRY

Of interest to motorists who travel between here and United States points by way of Kingsgate and Porthill is the proposed construction of a $150,000 bridge across the Kootenai river at Bonners Ferry, beginning some time in August.

The bridge will replace an old one, which has spanned the stream for many years, but which was dangerously weakened by an ice jam last winter, when its centre spans were pushed out of line. The bridge will be more than 1200 feet long. It will be of steel and concrete. The new bridge will be up stream, just far enough to permit use of the old bridge while the new one is being built.—Kimberley Courier.

EVOLUTION!

We hear of a child being born in the city of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, of Russian-Pole parents, who grow up to be an undersigned Irishman. Something happening all the time.

A large audience turned out Sunday morning to hear Rev. Dr. Thomas Powell at the United church.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Carino and family left on Saturday morning last for Cranbrook. Mrs. Carino will remain in Cranbrook while Mr. Carino will continue on to Radium Hot Springs for his health.

BLAIRMORE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Books being placed on the shelves this week are:

"The Voodoo Gold Trail," by W. Welden; "Death Walks in Eastreps," by Francis Beding; "Hatter's Castle," by A. J. Cronin; "Our Dominion," by Lorne Pierce; "Sons of the Mounted Police," by Longstreet; "Riders of the Plains," by A. E. Haydon; "Cudjo's Cave," by Troubridge; "The Boy Trapper," by Harry Castleman; "Tom Fairfield at Sea," by Allen Chapman.

The library hours are Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturdays from 7 to 10 p.m. The fees are $1.00 per year for non-residents and $2.00 per year for non-residents.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

The bridge drive held in the Catholic parish hall in aid of the Scout camp fund was very successful. Bridge honors were won by Mrs. E. Wilson, Lundbreck; ladies' first; Mrs. G. Chiaravano, second; Fred Wostenholm, gents' first; A. Nicoll, second. After bridge, supper was served by the Scouts.

Misses Erma and Avis McDonald are attending summer school at Edmonton.

The striking miners of Balmoral and Bellevue placed a large picket around the L.O.O.F. hall on Saturday last. Bill Gallup was arrested for interference. The moderates, who were holding their meeting in the hall, invited the radicals in, but the invitation was turned down. Thugs were pretty hot for a few minutes, but we cannot understand why the radicals allowed to block traffic.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Padgett and family, and Bruce Burton, have returned home from a week's vacation trip to Skagway.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Emmerson had as their guests for Monday afternoon and night Mr. and Mrs. Hutton, Jim, Jack and Miss Hutton, of Calgary, while returning from Pullman, Wash., where Jack was studying at the State College for the last year.

Picnicking was enjoyed by a large number of Bellevue people on Sunday at the South Fork bridge.

The radicals staged a kiddie parade on Tuesday afternoon. There is not much admiration for the leaders who will allow such little tots to parade.

Mr. Maefelaine Hudson died on Sunday from pneumonia in the Balmoral hospital. Funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon. Floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Fisher, of Winnipeg, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Radford. They leave this evening for Spokane, where they will visit Mrs. Fisher's sister, Mrs. T. Bradshaw.

Mrs. Walter Vey, of Lethbridge, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Christie.

Miss Janet Paulson, of Edmonton, is spending her vacation in town, the guest of the Cottick family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Newton and family, of California, are visiting their parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ritchie and family are spending their vacation at Lee Lake.

Mrs. Utey, Mrs. Willoughby, Miss McCarl, Mrs. Harrison and Yvonne are camping at Lee Lake.

Bert Simmonds started for Murphy's soap box to correct one of the latter's statements, when he was kicked and punched by the reds. He picked out the chief aggressor and is alleged to have socked him on the jaw. Later he was arrested for assault.

Willie Marcolin returned home Wednesday morning, to spend the remainder of the holidays.

Miss Dorothy Turner is going to leave town today for Edmonton to visit her uncle.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

The United States celebrated the 150th anniversary of Independence Day at a cost of more than 240 lives.

The $2,100,000 compromise unemployment relief bill was finally approved by the United States House representatives and senate conference.

Limited sockeye salmon packs for 1932 in British Columbia waters are estimated in an advance report prepared by Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Fisheries Commissioner.

A shepherd and several hundred sheep were frozen to death on Mount Olympus, near Bursa, Turkey, during a terrible snowstorm which followed a recent heat wave.

By means of X-ray doctors of the Canadian Medical Association were able to read lead type upside down with their eyes closed in an experiment.

Ontario and Manitoba joined hands in an unique Dominion Day celebration. The natal day of the Dominion of Canada was chosen for the formal opening of the first highway to connect the two provinces.

After several months of investigation, F. A. McGregor, registrar under the Combinations Act, has reported the existence of a price-fixing combine among the fruit basket manufacturers of Ontario.

Mrs. Katharine Medill McCormick, widow of the diplomat, Robert S. McCormick, died of a heart attack in Versailles, France. She was 79. She was the mother of Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Pirate treasure—$60,000,000 in pieces of eight, gold and silver bars, and church relics—has been discovered on Coos Island by an expedition which left Vancouver, B.C., last February. Capt. R. D. Adams, a member of the party, reported.

Gold that led Jack Horney and two young Englishmen to death by starvation in the Thelon River country in 1927 is beckoning to other prospectors. This summer a party will go into the barren wastes in search of Horney's secret strike.

A difficult operation was reported at the homoeopathic hospital, Montreal, where an eight-year-old boy was taken with a punctured heart. Dr. J. Harry Condon successfully sowed the right ventricle of the heart. The boy, Robert Shepherd, fell upon his penknife while running, the blade penetrating the heart.

Emancipation For the Deaf
Social emancipation for deaf persons, opportunities to obtain education and employment, for which they are qualified were demanded by Ed G. ## Mace Is Old War Club

Gift To Queen Victoria Going Back To Fiji King

Among the thousands of treasures in Windsor Castle is the war club of the former King of Fiji, which was presented to Queen Victoria 38 years ago when King Thakombau acknowledged to Sir Hercules Robinson the sovereignty of Great Britain.

This war club, by command of King George, is now to be returned for ceremonial use as a mace in the Fiji legislative council. When the Fijian king handed over the war club to Sir Hercules Robinson he "sent his love to Her Majesty," assuring the Queen of his devotion and the devotion of his people to her descendants. The king desired to give Her Majesty the only thing he possessed that would be of interest to her and as a further token of his submission he had devices of doves carved on the sinister knob of the club.

Waiting Time Is Over

Prosperity Must Be Met Half Way
Opinion of Barnum

Frank J. D. Barnum, that Canadian optimist who confesses to having weathered three or four panics in his time, has no hesitation in saying that prosperity is now simply waiting for people to go out and meet it half way. "Don't keep on waiting; both wait, we shall never meet," is the word he broadcasts in a communication to the press. "If all those who have money, and there would go out and buy freely, then the did in 1929, the depression would soon be thing of the past. Buy, build, pair and stock up now, and by doing save thirty to fifty per cent, is the word from the man who has been recently buying forest tracts in this country in order to save them for posterity. "And then advertise," he adds.

A Dainty Blouse That Is ALTOGETHER JUST AS CHIC AS CAN BE

It has Paris stamped all over it. Yet it's not a bit difficult and need not be expensive.

The original in white crepe silk is exceedingly wearable. It can be worn with a suit or a separate skirt for special occasions.

Of course you can make it in organdy, dotted batiste, lace or tucked net.

The saving over the original model is enormous. And it's set entirely easy to fashion it.

Style No. 547 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 1% yards of fabric.

The front plastron effect is very new and becoming to most figures. And don't you like the bow tied sleeves?

Price of pattern 25 cents in stamp or coin (preferably). Wrap coin carefully.

"DON'T BE ROBBED OF YOUTH!"

SAYS RALPH GRAVES

"Here in Holly-wood," Ralph Graves, scenario writer, says, "we don't use birth-days as an excuse for growing old. They seem to know the secret of becoming more and more alluring year after year."

"The screen and stage stars usually keep that lovely radiant glow that youngsters have. And lots of other women, these days, seem to have learned the complexion secret."

"Above all, guard complexion beauty," the stars will advise you. "Use gentle, soothng Lux Toilet Soaps regularly. Lux is as we do."

"Actresses the world over use fragrant, delicately white Lux Toilet Soap to keep their complexions always exquiate. In Hollywood, where 65% of the 694 important stars are devoted to it, this cake soap is official in all the great film studios."

You are sure to love the way it cares for your skin. The secret of dollar-a-cake Fresh soap for just 10c."

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

BY MARGARET PEDLER

Author Of
"The Splendid Four",
"The End of the Hermit"
Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London

CHAPTER XXV.

Arranged By Telephone:

The visit to London, it had not been prolific in the results which Lady Anne had hoped for, had at least accomplished certain things.

It had acted as a bridge upon the swiftly turning wheels of two lives precariously poised at the top of that steep hill of which no traveller can see the end, but which very surely leads to heartbreak and disaster, and had suffice, as Jean had suggested that it might, to restore Nick to a normal and temperate state of mind.

He and Claire had passed a long hour alone, together the day after his return to Staple, and now that the first violent reaction, the first instinctive impulse of unbearable revolt from Sir Adrian's spying and brutality had spent itself, they had agreed to shoulder once more the burdened fate had laid upon them, to fight on again, just holding fast to the simple knowledge of their love for one another and leaving the ultimate issue to that great, unfathomable Player who "hither and thither moves, and mutes, and slays," not with the shadowed vision of our finite eyes but with the insight of eternity.

Jean had seen them coming hand in hand through the cool green glades of the wood where the great decision had been taken, and something in the two young, stern-set faces brought a sudden lump into her throat. She turned swiftly aside, avoiding a meeting, feeling as though here was holy ground upon which not even so close a friend as she could tread without the insight of eternity.

Ten years hence the week in London had brought a certain new tranquility of spirit. Quite naturally and without effort—thanks to Lady Anne's skilful stage-management—and she and Blaise had been constantly in each other's company, and, with the word "Beloved" murmuring in her heart like some tender undertone of melody, the hours they had shared together were no longer a mingled ecstasy and pain, marred by torturing doubts and fears.

but held once more the old magic of that wonder-day at Montauk.

Somehow the dividing line did not seem to matter very much, now that she was sure that Blaise, on his side of it, was loving her just as she, on hers, loved him. Indeed, at this stage Jean made no very great demands on life. After the agony of uncertainty of the last few months, the calm surely that Blaise loved her seemed happiness enough.

Other sharp edges of existence, too, had smoothed themselves down—as sharp edges have a knack of doing if you wait long enough. Burke had come to an end, and now spared her the effort of contending further with his tempestuous love-making, so that she felt able to continue her friendship with Judith, and her consequent visits to Willow Ferry, with as little "gen" as though the episode at the "Honeymooners' Inn" had never taken place. She even began to believe that Burke was genuinely slightly remorseful for his behaviour on that particular occasion.

Apparently he had not made a confidant of his sister over the matter, for it was without the least indication of a back thought of any kind that she approached Jean on the subject of spending a few days with Judith and Geoffrey at their bungalow on the Moor.

"Geoff and I are going for a week's break on Dartmoor, just by way of a 'pick-me-up.' Come with us, Jean; it will do you good after study old London—blow the cobwebs away!"

But here, at least, Jean felt that discretion was the better part of valour. It was true that Burke appeared fairly amenable to reason just as present, but in the informal companionship of daily life in a moorland bungalow it was more than probable that he would become less manageable. And she had no desire for a repetition of that scene in the inn parlour.

Therefore, although the Moor, with its great stretches of gold and purple, its fragrant, heathery breath and its enfolding silences, appealed to her in a way which nothing else on earth seemed quite to appeal, putting all her heartstrings almost as the nostalgia for home and country pulls at the heartstrings of a wanderer, she returned a regretful smile to Judith's invitation. So Burke and Mrs. Cross packed up with their bags and at Staple resumed the even tenor of its way.

The weather was glorious, the long, hot summer days melting into balmy nights when the hills and dales amid bathed in moonlight mystery—transformed into a wonderland of phantasy, cavernous with shadow, where undreamed-of dragons lurked, lambent with opalescent fields of splendour whence uprose the glimmer of half-visioned palaces or the battlemented walls of some ethereal fairy castle.

More than once Jean's thoughts turned wistfully towards the Moor which she had so longed to see by moonlight—Judith's "holy of holies that God must have made for His spirit"—and she felt disposed to blame herself for the robust attack of caution which had impelled her to refuse the invitation to the bungalow. "One loses half the best things in life by being afraid," she told herself petulantly. "And a second chance to take them doesn't come!"

She felt almost tempted to write to Judith and propose that she should join her at the bungalow for a few days after all if she still had room for her. And then, as is often the way of things just when we are contemplating taking the management of affairs into our own hands, the second chance offered itself without a ray of warning on Jean's part.

The telephone bell rang, and Jean, who was expecting an answer to an important message she had "phoned through on Lady Anne's behalf, hastened to answer it. Very much to her surprise, she found that it was Burke who was speaking at the other end of the wire.

"It isn't. And we are," came back Burke's voice. From a certain quality in it she knew that he was smiling. "I'm in Otterhampton, phoning from a pal's house. I've a message for you from Judy."

"Yes—?" intoned Jean enquiringly.

"She wants you to come up tomorrow, just for one night. I'll be a full moon and she says you have a hankering to see the Moor by moonlight."

"Yes, oh yes!"—with enthusiasm.

"Thought so. It certainly does look topping. Quite worth seeing. Well, here Judy's got a party of friends, down from town, who are coming over to us from the South

Devon side—going to drive up and stay the night, and the idea is to do a moonlight scramble up on to the top of one of the tors after supper. Are you game?"

"Oh! How heavenly!" This, castanically, from Jean.

"How what?"

"Heavenly, Heavenly"—with increasing emphasis. "Can't you hear?"

"Oh, heavenly—yes, I hear. Yes, it would be rather—if you came."

Even through the 'phone Burke's voice conveyed something of that upsettingly fiery ardour of his.

"I won't come—unless you promise to behave," said Jean warmly.

Bubbling over with pleasure at the prospect unfolded by the invitation, she found it a little difficult to infuse a befitting sternness into her tones.

"Do I need to take fresh vows?" came back Burke's answer, spoken rather gravely. "I made you a promise that day—when we drove back from Dartmoor. I'll keep that."

"I'll never have you again till you give me your lips yourself."

The words of the promise rushed vividly into Jean's mind, and now that steady voice through the 'phone uttered its quiet endorsement of the assurance given, made her feel suddenly almost as safe as her suspicions.

"Very well, I'll come then," she said basely. "How shall I get to you?"

"I've all planned, because we thought—at least we hoped—our friend. If you come down to Okehampton by the three o'clock train from Coombe Easby, I'll meet you there with the car and drive you up to the bungalow. Judy is going to drive into Newton Abbot early, to do some marketing, and afterwards she'll lunch with her London people—the Hollards. Then they'll all come up together in the afternoon."

Therefore, although the Moor, with its great stretches of gold and purple, its fragrant, heathery breath and its enfolding silences, appealed to her in a way which nothing else on earth seemed quite to appeal, putting all her heartstrings almost as the nostalgia for home and country pulls at the heartstrings of a wanderer, she returned a regretful smile to Judith's invitation. So Burke and Mrs. Cross packed up with their bags and at Staple resumed the even tenor of its way.

The weather was glorious, the long, hot summer days melting into balmy nights when the hills and dales amid bathed in moonlight mystery—transformed into a wonderland of phantasy, cavernous with shadow, where undreamed-of dragons lurked, lambent with opalescent fields of splendour whence uprose the glimmer of half-visioned palaces or the battlemented walls of some ethereal fairy castle.

More than once Jean's thoughts turned wistfully towards the Moor which she had so longed to see by moonlight—Judith's "holy of holies that God must have made for His spirit"—and she felt disposed to blame herself for the robust attack of caution which had impelled her to refuse the invitation to the bungalow. "One loses half the best things in life by being afraid," she told herself petulantly. "And a second chance to take them doesn't come!"

She felt almost tempted to write to Judith and propose that she should join her at the bungalow for a few days after all if she still had room for her. And then, as is often the way of things just when we are contemplating taking the management of affairs into our own hands, the second chance offered itself without a ray of warning on Jean's part.

Overcoming Danger Of Lightning To Airplanes

Process Known As "Bonding" Has

Been Proven Effective

British aeronautical engineers have succeeded in overcoming danger to aircraft and passengers from lightning to such an extent that a plane may be struck while in flight and remain sufficiently undamaged to continue its journey.

A process known as "bonding" in which all metal parts of the machine are connected into a continuous conductor prevent heavy charges of static electricity, such as are picked up in storm clouds, from blowing the plane apart.

"Horatius," an Imperial Airways airliner, was recently struck by lightning while flying over Kent on her way to Paris. Although some of the windows were blown out, no occupant was hurt and the pilot was able to turn back to London and transfer his passengers to another plane which took them at once to their destination.

Devon side—going to drive up and stay the night, and the idea is to do a moonlight scramble up on to the top of one of the tors after supper. Are you game?"

"Oh! How heavenly!" This, castanically, from Jean.

"How what?"

"Heavenly, Heavenly"—with increasing emphasis. "Can't you hear?"

"Oh, heavenly—yes, I hear. Yes, it would be rather—if you came."

Even through the 'phone Burke's voice conveyed something of that upsettingly fiery ardour of his.

"I won't come—unless you promise to behave," said Jean warmly.

Bubbling over with pleasure at the prospect unfolded by the invitation, she found it a little difficult to infuse a befitting sternness into her tones.

"Do I need to take fresh vows?" came back Burke's answer, spoken rather gravely. "I made you a promise that day—when we drove back from Dartmoor. I'll keep that."

Punctuality Is Amazing

Birds and Fish Seem To Have Extra-ordinary Time Sense

Some birds certainly have a sense of time. Observations made at Barham Abbey, England, in the month of June prove that the lark is definitely the first to sing in the morning. This at two minutes after three. Next comes the thrush, third, the hedge warbler, fourth the blackbird. Then in order the reed bunting, robin, cuckoo, willow-wren, rook and garden warbler. The whole list is too long to give, but the same order was kept faithfully, morning after morning, ending with the tree creeper which did not sound its note until four thirty-seven.

Great shoals of a delicious little fish arrive yearly on the coasts of Samoa on the same day in the same month, with such regularity that, from time to time out of mind, the day has been set apart by the natives as a holiday and a feast day. The shoals last twenty-four hours in passing, then they are not seen again until the same day the following year. There is no explanation of the amazing punctuality of their yearly visit.

If the northland holds any secrets Jack Hornby knew them; they say Hornby died in 1927 in a remote section of the Thelon River country, in northern Alberta, while searching for gold. Two young Englishmen—cousins of his—died with him. Now, five years after starvation killed the "mystery prospector," a group of miners is prepared to spend money to find out if Hornby was right—that there is gold in rich quantities in Thelon River. The party will leave Edmonton this summer for the north. Samples of almost pure gold quartz were found besides Hornby's body when it was discovered many months after his death. Nobody knows where the veteran got them. If Hornby was ahead of the prospecting world in finding gold in the Thelon River country, it will be another who profits.

Railroad transportation is an essential economic function on the continent and given reasonable freedom to the railways will always bring good recovery using it to increase buying of materials and employment of labor, says the Grenville (S.C.) News editorial.

Total production of honey in Canada in 1931 was 15,271,367 lbs., valued at $2,053,664. Ontario led the Dominion with a production of 12,000,000 lbs. with Manitoba second with 7,367,375 lbs. and Quebec third with 5,653,400 lbs.

Ten thousand salmon trout, 1000 lbs. each, have been deposited in the French River in June, following 7,500 fingerlings deposited last year. The new arrangement is not so satisfactory that the present action has been taken and if success still attends these efforts, the French River, Balsam Lake, and other eastern rainbow trout to its already well diversified angling attractions.

He proposes to spend some time in making expeditions, both by land and sea, to the Rockies, where he will meet Irvin S. Cobb and Courtney Riley Cooper, also famous American publicists.

Tourists spent almost one million dollars for every working day in Canada in 1931, and virtually equal to $260,000,000, the Cannington, Ontario, Gleacher, points out and claims that this adds up to a class of business which should be carefully fostered. Commenting on the same subject, the Nelson, B.C., News states that there are more than 600 small towns throughout Canada which have not yet realized what the tourist business could do for them.

Evidence of the growing popularity of the Canadian Pacific Railway, long and singularly unique, inaugurated this year, was again furnished by the success of the Quebec Province and Montreal excursion to the Orient, via New York, Fells, June 17, when no fewer than 2,500 Quebecers took the trip in four special cars on the day returning, the following Sunday, which Hon. H. H. Mayor of Toronto lauded a hearty welcome to those making the trip.

The thirty-two business and professional men and women from the British Isles, now touring British Columbia, and the Canadian government agencies found Victoria much to their liking and quite up to advance notions of beauty and culture, and the like, on this side of the Atlantic. They were particularly impressed by the beauty of the formal gardens at the Empress of Canada, and especially with the famous Butchart Gardens. They are travelling by Canadian Pacific Railway.

CORRESPONDENCE

Blairmore, Alberta,
July 14, 1932.The Editor,
Blairmore Enterprise.

Dear Sir—Regarding the strike at Blairmore, the general public and members of our organization may well wonder why Belgrave and Blairmore mine employees are idle while all the other local units affiliated with the Mine Workers' Union of Canada continue to work, especially as the terms offered by the West Canadian Collieries Ltd., are eminently as fair, or more so, than those under which other locals are operating.

The terms offered to the last elected joint committee of all employees were as follows: "Two years agreement with no reduction in wages; freedom to form their own local union; appoint their own officials and committees; freedom to join or affiliate with lawful organization, (just as all local units of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada have done); twenty-five men to be laid off temporarily at each mine."

No support is forthcoming from the funds of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada to date, but Harvey Murphy's Unity League and the Workers' International Relief are splendidly supporting the real revolutionary faction; the faction which is not quite so revolutionary but is willing to join the "boeing" parades at Murphy's dictation, get some small support, while those who emphatically disagree with Murphy's Communist propaganda get no relief; vilification and ridicule is handed out to the latter class as an anesthetic until Murphy and his cohorts see the establishment of Communism in the Crows' Nest Pass.

Let us examine the calibre of the district officers of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada. First, take President Sloan, who defended the acceptance of Communism and Communists into the Labor Party Convention at Edmonton in 1928, in spite of the fact that the Communist Party in convention at Toronto had passed a resolution that "it was not the objective of any Communist to attend Labor Conventions with the view to try and build up by lawful means, B.T.R.T.R. TO DESTROY." So much for our supposed leader of Labor organization. Secondly, let us consider Harvey Murphy, the second in command, this man was simply "pitch-forked" UNCONSTITUTIONALLY. He was allowed by the membership at large to ignore our Constitution, ignore the check-off and disregard the secret ballot and referendum vote. Now, lastly, let us consider the third officer, viz: Secretary Stokulak. This is the man who was expelled from the Communist Party because he was unsuccessful, (thanks to the efforts of Past-President Frank Wheatley), in bringing the meat on strike two years ago, with the same object in view as the present strike.

In my humble opinion all this corruption and strife can be blamed on the British-born members of our organization; these men are able to read and understand our Constitution which is printed in the English language only, and I for one, deeply regret that we have not taken action heretofore to have the Constitution of the Mine Workers' Union of Canada printed in all languages and thereby enable our foreign-born members to read and understand for themselves.

I have every sympathy for our foreign-born brothers and co-workers. They are only too eager and willing to be guided by the English-speaking members who, as I have already stated, made no serious attempt to prevent the wrecking of our Constitution by the Communist Party and the Unity League.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor,
Blairmore Enterprise.

Dear Sir—I have read two letters by a Mr. Wootton. I would like to express my opinion, if you will be kind enough to give me space in your bulletin.

Mr. Wootton:—Dear Sir—I am taking the liberty to answer your letter published on the 30th June. In the first paragraph you mention the carrying on of a campaign to get rid of the British and anti-Communist propaganda. Now I would like you, Mr. Wootton, to know such a thing does not exist. There is, however, a body of men of all nationalities, not of all types of British birth, but of all principles, who realize they are not doing their bit to build up Canada when they wilfully stay out of work, when they are not needed, when they are unnecessarily refusing to support their wives and children. These men wish to work and are trying to organize against it. There is no camouflage about it, because when there is nothing to be ashamed of, there is nothing to hide.

Speaking of "degradation" in the same paragraph, to what lower depths do you sink when you teach innocent little children to be insulting, rude and ignorant to their elders; teaching them disrespect for the flag of Old England? What bigger insult can you offer the Mother Land than to enter and march with a foreign flag in H. Dominion? You are not being held here. If another flag is your choice, then get it. If you want the red flag, why not get it? If you want the red flag, why not go where it is waving, when it is accepted as the country's flag, where you could try to get it, and serve it, if you like? Don't waste your time trying to force a foreign flag over us. We are Canadians and British. Our forefathers fought for this land, and we will not give it up easily.

Mr. Wootton:—In the seventh paragraph of your letter, you state: The superintendent affirmed his intentions of making Blairmore a "White Man's Camp." Well, who is a white man? He is a white man who lives up to the laws and statutes of the country in which he lives; who respects that country's flag; who takes at peace with his neighbors; who, taking the ups and downs in life, is continually keeping full well can not and will not be led by red of roses in any country. Nationality is no count—he is white who acts white.

Didn't you feel a thrill run through you, Mr. Wootton, when you saw our flag, the Union Jack, and such numbers of them, parading on the 24th of May, our day off? Queen Victoria's birthday? Didn't you feel a thrill? I have never let the Old Flag fail. I sure did enjoy it, and I am sure many more than I. Men like them are the "Glory of the Empire." Glory to the Queen, Old Flag!

Many of them were disappointed. "Yes, when they came back; but what mattered that?" They fought for freedom of England, and demanded that Her flag shall continue to wave. They won, and we are proud of them.

Paragraph 12, Mr. Wootton deals with "scrutinizing" the "British" to quote your words. "They are not Britons." What a disgrace! What a pile of weight those four words carry. Men who should have shown them: "British" are British; they have upheld our laws and taught these reckless nationalistic efforts. The chief national characteristic is that.

King Camp Gillette, famous for the invention and distribution of one of the first safety razors, died Saturday at Los Angeles, at the age of seventy-seven.

Jane, six years old, was out for a ride in the country. She saw a swamp where bullrushes were growing. "Oh, daddy!" she exclaimed, "look at that hot dog garden."

NOT OUR ANGUS, BUT IT READS GOOD ANYHOW!

Angus McPherson, of Cranbrook, is not the only mortician in the business. The other day Ross Carr was browsing through some trade journals when he came across the following, and lost no time in clipping it out and showing it to our Cranbrook resident:

Angus McPherson, one of New York's biggest undertakers, went home to Scotland on a visit. His old friends, being proud of his success, honored him with a banquet. In appreciation he addressed them as follows: "There is only one thing that I myself do well and that is to bury people. The McPherson service is known all over America. Now, I will give an unusual offer to make: I will give a free and first-class burial to the first person in this town who dies." That night twenty-two Scotsmen committed suicide. Cranbrook Courier.

A dahn trifle: The Drumheller Mail announced the arrival of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dahn.

Was On Verge
Of Breakdown

"A year ago my nerves simply went to pieces. I was in a condition where I lay in bed all day, I didn't sleep well and never, sick headaches and thought I was going to die. I had a tired, aching feeling all over my body, not in anything. I strengthened and invigorated effects of the drugs I was taking. I was just finished my treatment and I am filled with new strength and energy. I have a sound sleep and my nerves perfectly normal. Marion George, 18, Annie Street, Toronto."

The World Owes Much
To Advertisers

ALL OF US would be poorer if there were no advertisements in our newspapers—poorer in pocket, mind, comfort, culture.

Advertisements have been called the "Poor man's University" for they are wonderful teachers—wonderful mirrors of the world's scientific and cultural development.

It is advertisements which keep us informed about what is being accomplished by the world's best engineers, chemists, research workers and technicians, in every field of human endeavor—in the realms of radio, motor-car and tire manufacturing, food preparation, remedial preparations, domestic and personal hygiene, building materials and construction, and agricultural economy, home easements and beautification.

If there were no advertisements in our newspapers and magazines, we'd all slip back to the levels of life 50 and 100 years ago. We'd rest less, move about less, lower our living standards, be content with poorer machines, eat coarser foods and wear coarser clothing, live in unattractive homes, do a vast amount of distasteful labor, wear ill-fitting shoes, see ugliness everywhere, have more illnesses, meet with more accidents, have more toothaches; and our stores would be very dull places indeed.

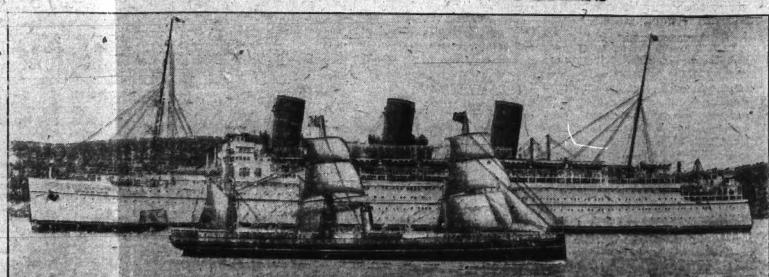

To blot out advertisements would be like blotting out the sun—the source of light and energy.

Be grateful to advertisers, and show your gratitude by buying what they bring so faithfully to your attention—in this and other newspapers.

AND ALWAYS REMEMBER THAT ADVERTISERS ARE THE WORLD'S CIVILIZERS AND YOUR TRUE FRIENDS

FORTY-FIVE YEARS OF PROGRESS

A forgotten artist, too modest to sign his name, and a second-hand dealer formed the strange combination that brought to light one of the best examples of the growth of Canadian art with the Orient. Forty-five years ago he did the painting of the Canadian Pacific, a flag that has since found its way into practically every port in the world, set out from Port Moody, B.C. She was the model for the "Abyssinia" and such a marvel was she that model was transferred to her graceful shape to canvas with painstaking detail.

Another artist, chance upon the picture, imposed it upon a photograph of the latest Canadian Pacific ship in the Orient trade, the magnificent Empress of Japan. They are shown above in exact proportion as they would have appeared passing each other on the broad wastes of the Pacific.

Some idea of the development of shipping in the 45 years may be gained from the fact that the Empress of Japan, 42 1/2 feet wide, had a tonnage of 4,376 and a length of 156 ft. The "Empress of Japan" is 670 feet long, 87 1/2 feet wide, has a tonnage of 24,000 and during its record-breaking passages between Vancouver, Victoria, Yokohama, Hong Kong and Manila has developed as high as 22 knots—more than half her fast.

A strange coincidence is that the "Abyssinia" was chartered from W. G. Pearce, who later became the "Fairfield" Shipbuilding Company while famous Clydeside shipyard built the Empress of Japan two years ago.

Mrs. Oakley, of Fernie, is at present visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. Dawson.

At Hillcrest on Saturday last, Corbin's football team went down to defeat to the tune of 3-2.

A softball game was staged here on Thursday last, the proceeds of which were donated to help pay expenses in connection with completing the new ball park. The Corbin girls played the Corbin Lady Coons, who turned out to be a real team of "colored" ladies. The Coons left the B. & B. restaurant, led by an impromptu band, who very kindly volunteered their services at the last moment. Several starts were made, but as every new arrival carried a camera and said they just had to have pictures of such good looking colored pussons, the team was considerably late for the game. Although the game was again delayed by the fans, especially the younger ones, did not seem to tire of waiting, and when the Coons took the field they then showed the fans a really worth game, crowded with laughs. The game ended in a draw. The following comprised the Coons' team: Liza Mary Burke, p; Ruby Rose Hoffman, c; Mandy Ann Wilde, 1b; Panama Buttercup Hoffman, 2b; Flossie Beauchamp, Thompson, ss; Miranda Jane Poffinsoth, 3b; Virginny Charlotte Peel, lf; Madam Queen, rf; Pearl Corinne Parsons, cf; Umpire, Rufus George Washington Kington.

When giving the Cowley school report last week, we overlooked reporting the following prizes. For best attendance from the country, Edith Kaye. In agricultural booklet, first prize, Edith Murphy; second prize, Lillian Porter; third prize, Clae Bundy. Various collections: first prize, Irene Freeman; second prize, Florence Potapoff; third, Isabel Porter.

Cowley went down to defeat on home ground on Wednesday afternoon in a game of baseball with Todd Creek, the appalling score being 13 to 2.

On Friday evening, on neutral ground, Cowley won in baseball against the River Rats 3-4.

Mr. Hillie Swart and Master Gordon are on a camping holiday trip up the North Fork river.

Mrs. George Porter and family, have gone to join Mr. Porter, where they will spend the summer holidays at their ranch home at Black Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Penn, of Lundbreck, in company with M. A. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Drew, of Pincher Creek, were Waterton Park visitors on Sunday last. The men played eighteen holes of golf while there and we heard them remark that they had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Coghill, of Warner, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Littleton and incidentally renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. Stickney and Mr. McKay, of Vulcan, are paying a visit to Mr. Pratton, of the Co-operative here, while on a holiday trip.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Jack Cowin, Ronald Morrison and Melvin Black report a swell time from a week's holiday camping trip up the South Fork river.

Tom Hamann of Lethbridge, is holidaying at Cowley.

A meeting of the Municipal Board was held in town on Saturday afternoon, when routine business was gone over.

The Oddfellows' lodges of Pincher Creek and Cowley united, when a very successful picnic was held near the South Fork river on Wednesday afternoon of last week, which was well attended and a very enjoyable time was reported.

Mrs. William Cochrane, who has resided in Calgary for the past few years, accompanied by Master Bobby, joined her husband early this week at their new ranch home, where they will reside in future.

The Lundbreck softball team journeyed to Cowley on Saturday evening, when a very exciting game took place, with the home team winning by a 15 to 8 score.

Baseball was played at Cowley on Sunday afternoon, when the Porcupine Hills' team were defeated by the Cowley aggregation 11-12. When the game was again delayed by the "Sons of Freedom" for the second game against the River squad, the score was 3-3.

Mrs. A. J. Snyder, who lives two and a half miles north of town, has one of the best vegetable and flower gardens in the district, with her people making a fine showing and raspberry, and currant bushes fairly loaded with fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Tustian and daughter Freda, of Shackleton, Sask., are spending a holiday visiting relatives and friends in the vicinity.

As to the cause of the Cowley school, which was built in 1912, being destroyed by fire around four o'clock Monday morning, considerable evidence has been found by policeman who arrived shortly after the burning of the building. It was found that the fire started at the far corner of the building by a cleverly hand-made device, rigged up on a wooden frame with a bit of elastic and two rubber bands, cut from inner tire tubes of a car, which were saturated with oil and stretched across wooden pegs with a few matches with the tops broken off, arranged in such a way, that when the smaller band gave way, the elastic would snap, causing the matches to ignite, by scratching on a piece of paper which was placed beneath them.

Apparently this device was placed on the cement foundation, with oiled waste packed all round and that part of the building thoroughly sprayed with gasoline. Around eleven o'clock on Sunday night, two strange men were seen by a section man, going toward the railway track, pounding being heard around some box cars, where it is supposed the waste was gotten from six iron boxes which were found emptied. These same two men were seen again in a short while, going in behind the town. It is suspected that if found and identified they might be able to tell how the fire originated that destroyed the Cowley school. The loss, which is heavy, is partly covered by insurance. Plans are already under discussion for the erection of a new school house, and it is being seriously considered changing the site of the new building to the other side of town, on vacant lots which are faced on every side by residents, making it very difficult for any rascal to steal around at any time, who might anticipate giving trouble.

Since the Doukhobors at Brilliant, B.C. and those in Saskatchewan, who call themselves "The Sons of Freedom," have been giving so much trouble by destroying public buildings (principally schools) by burning them down, the Doukhobors at Cowley, who are organized under a heading called "Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood" are very suspicious that the troublesome Doukhobors might try to destroy some of their property such as grain elevators, flour mills, etc., and have been keeping a night watch for several weeks in order to protect their property against such measures if attempted.

The Doukhobors here wish to live peaceable and apparently do not approve of the manner in which "The Sons of Freedom" are conducting themselves.

It Doesn't Always Follow

On the first day of school, the little boys took their seats and waited until the teacher came down among them to get their names. The first one to whom she came replied that his name was St. Silas.

"No," the teacher corrected, "you mustn't say St. Silas."

Next she came to one who said his name was Tom.

"No," the teacher said, impressively, "It's Thomas."

"And now, little boy," she inquired of a little boy in the end row, "what is your name?"

"Jackass," responded the bright lad.—Santorum Outlook.

Jerry Siorin, aged 26, was sentenced to five years in Prince Albert penitentiary and ten lashes; and Bernard Idleman, aged 24, three years and five lashes, convicted of the robbery of the Misericordia hospital payroll at Edmonton on May the 31st. They were arrested at Winnipeg.

As an accomplice to the kidnapping and murder of the Lindbergh baby, John Hugh Curtis, has been sentenced to serve a year in jail and pay a fine of $1,000. Different in Canada, for without a doubt we wouldn't have Curtis to worry over much longer. An accomplice to a murder in Canada always deserves and gets the "loop."

GREAT BRITAIN FAVORS BIG CUT IN ARMAMENTS

London, England.—Great Britain officially defined her attitude towards the United States proposal for a one-third cut in world armaments, generally welcoming the American plan, but producing concrete naval armament limitation proposals in lieu of the American naval plan which Great Britain does not think go far enough.

In a white paper read before the House of Commons by Stanley Baldwin, acting prime minister, the government pointed out Great Britain's world-wide interests made it impracticable to reduce the number of naval units beyond a certain point.

"But, if there is a limit to naval restriction, it is still practicable, and highly desirable, to secure by other means a large diminution in naval armaments," Mr. Baldwin said.

He therefore proposed important reductions in the maximum size of future capital ships, aircraft carriers, cruisers and destroyers, with corresponding reduction in the maximum gun-calibers for each class.

So far as land armament is concerned, Great Britain has already enforced standards which more than cover the United States aims. The army has been cut from 269,000 in 1913 to 207,000 at present, Mr. Baldwin stated.

And in the air, Great Britain goes step by step with the United States. Great Britain's air force, indeed, is only 20 per cent. of the immediate postwar strength. Great Britain is prepared to support the abolition of the bombing of civilians, and gas and chemical bombing, along with limitations on size and number of aircraft. She would strictly limit the unladen weight of all military and naval aircraft, with the exception of troop carriers and flying boats.

Gas Conservation

National Gas Flares In Turner Valley Have Faded Out

Calgary, Alberta.—"Hell's half acre," the soubriquet of Turner Valley with its scores of giant natural gas flares painting the sky from 50 miles away a lurid crimson at night, is fading out.

Throughout the entire south end of the valley, not a flicker of light is to be seen. By the middle of the week, all the "gas-flares" will also be extinguished and darkness—banned for eight years—will finally descend on the field.

The reason? Operators have finally yielded to the pressure for gas conservation and a government board is shooting in the tremendous high-pressure wells. Some of them like the original Royalty No. 4 which "came in" October 14, 1924, have been continuously flowing over the great Hydro well were only recently drilled in.

Lost Trapper Returns

Lindsey Bay, N.W.T.—Andy Nelson, lost seven days in the bush around Great Bear Lake, limped into his camp near exhaustion. Nelson had injured his ankle while making a short prospecting trip from camp, and then became confused in his direction. For seven days, without food, he wandered about and finally managed to take the correct route back to his camp.

Trapper Lost In Arctic

Ottawa, Ont.—James Assel, lone Fiji Islander, who for more than 20 years eked out an existence trapping along the Arctic coast and islands east of Coronation Gulf is listed among the missing, and is thought by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to have perished on an ice floe north of the mainland of Canada.

W.H. Exhibit Again

Victoria, B.C.—British Columbia honey producers, whose exhibits at the 1931 Imperial fruit show in England won six out of nine prizes awarded for honey, are to invade the show again this year.

Heavy Rail Shipments

Churchill, Man.—The number of rail shipments over the Canadian National lines is increasing. There were 250 shipments of less-than-carloads lots last week. Much of the material is going to northern outposts.

Gas Price Advance

Vancouver, B.C.—Wholesalers here and in Victoria announced an increase of two cents a gallon in the price of gasoline to retailers, making the wholesale price 29 cents a gallon.

Cocos Island Treasure Not Yet Uncovered

Head Of Expedition Says Report Of Success, Unfounded

Panama City—Col. J. E. Leckie, head of the Vancouver, B.C., expedition which is searching for buried treasure on Cocos Isle, off the coast of Costa Rica, wirelessed the United States naval reserve station at Balboa that reports the treasure had been uncovered were unfounded.

In a wireless conversation with the naval reserve station operator the operator of the expedition added: "How do anybody get the notion we would ever find anything on this God-forsaken island?"

The Balboa reserve station is the expedition's means of contact with the rest of the world and officials there said no message indicating the treasure had been found were transmitted lately.

J. Walter Young, engineer of the reserve station at Balboa, said Leckie declared before he left Panama for Cocos Island: "If we find gold you'll never know it until after it is safely aboard the Canadian destroyers which are standing by within the area to take the treasure to Canada."

Ottawa, Ont.—"We hope the destroyers are there, for we need the money," was the comment of defence department officials. "However," added the officials, "we are rather afraid the destroyers are still to be found in the neighborhood of Esquimalt, their home station."

Wheat At Churchill

Over 1,000,000 Bushels Of Wheat In Bluff At Northern Port

Churchill, Man.—More than 1,600,000 bushels of the first order of 2-0,000,000 bushels of wheat to be shipped through this new port this summer, are now in the bins in the harbor, and the second order in rolling from Saskatchewan points. It is expected 11 ships will be necessary to take away the first two orders of grain. There is much speculation here as to when they will arrive, but none as to how fast they can be loaded. Two or three days will do the job. There are enough trained cargo trimmers on hand.

Four cargo steamers will be able to load in a row, when the extension of the grain galleries is completed. They can be loaded in a day.

The elevator was designed for a total capacity of 10,000,000 bushels. The first storage unit of 2,500,000 has been completed, and is being filled for the first time. Grain men said it will be necessary to increase the storage capacity since the investment in plant equipment and machinery has been made for a much larger storage plant.

Plane Crash In North

Bodies Of Three Aviators Will Be Brought To Fort Smith

Edmonton, Alberta.—Bodies of Andy Crukshank and two air mechanics who died with him in a plane crash near Lake Mazenod, in the Northwest Territories, are likely to be brought to civilization for burial, it was learned here.

Pilot Walter Gilbert who found the broken bodies of Crukshank, one of the most greatest airmen, and Horace Torrie and Harry King, mechanics, has made a second flight to the lonely spot where the wrecked plane lies with the intention of taking the bodies to Fort Smith.

Mr. Crukshank and Mrs. King are at Fort McMurray, radio station and trading post in northern Alberta, and it is considered possible the remains of their husbands may be taken there.

C.N. Sheep Using Wood

Port Arthur, Ont.—Wood instead of coal is being burned in northwestern Ontario roundhouses and shops of the Canadian National Railways with favorable results on the labor situation in the district. Hon. William Finlayson, Ontario Minister of Lands and forests, said here. The railway, he said, agreed to use the wood in substitution for coal formerly imported from the United States.

World-Wide Depression

Vancouver, B.C.—That abolition of world-wide depression depends not on any one nation, but on world co-operation, was indicated by speakers at session of the convention of Pacific Advertising clubs in annual meeting here.

Bridge Bandit

Calgary, Alta.—Calgary's "bridge bandit" has reappeared. He entered a home and robbed two women at gun-point of $97.5. The bandit has terrorized bridge parties for the last month, holding up the players and obtaining all ready cash.

Trans-Continental Flight

Vancouver Sun Plane Lands Safely At Coast Airport

Vancouver, B.C.—Landing their plane, "The Vancouver Sun," at the Sea Island airport here, pilots R. H. Storer and B. R. Ronald completed their trans-Canada flight which started from Montreal.

Originally planned as a trans-Canada nonstop refueling flight, the flyers were forced to break up their flight when a broken oil line forced their ship down near Sudbury and delayed them three hours shortly after their takeoff from St. Hubert aerodrome, Montreal.

Practically the entire flight was made bucking strong head winds and rains which lashed the ship.

REPORTS OF GUN RUNNING ON IRISH COAST

Dublin, Ireland.—President Eamon de Valera was bombarded with questions in the Dail Eireann over alleged attempts to land arms illegally on the coast of the Irish Free State. The president declared the government had taken all necessary steps to repel the representations.

The discussion ended with Patrick McCulligan, former minister for external affairs, declaring he was unsatisfied and would again raise the matter.

In reply to whether, Mr. de Valera declined to say whether, the Free State had sought the collaboration of other governments or had received any offer of collaboration of other governments or had received any offer of collaboration from "another government" to deal with the gunrunning.

A member asked if the president was aware that a boat had been searched for arms two weeks ago. Mr. de Valera said the step had been taken in accordance with "general precautions." He declined to say whether boats had been searched at the authorities' request.

Unofficial reports some time ago said that vessels of the royal navy were on the lookout for vessels reported to be attempting to land arms, probably for the illegal Irish Republican army.

Dairy Probe

Alberta Government Announces Membership Of Fact-Finding Committee

Edmonton, Alberta.—Alberta Government announced the members of the fact-finding committee which will study the milk question in the province. Formation of the committee is the result of complaints made by milk producers and distributors over the low price received for their product.

J. J. Frawley, solicitor of the attorney-general's department, is chairman of the committee which will concentrate mostly on the situation in Calgary and Edmonton. Every phase of the question from producer to consumer will be investigated by the committee which will commence its work at once.

Foot and Mouth Disease

Victoria, B.C.—Foot and mouth disease in cattle, prevalent in certain areas in the British Isles, has been definitely traced to the importation of foreign broccoli through scientific investigation conducted by Scottish agricultural organizations, says T. G. Coventry, British Columbia's representative in England, in a letter to J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture here.

CANADIAN MEDICAL MEN COMPLETE CANCER REPORT

New knowledge of the cause and cure of cancer is about to be revealed by the Cancer Institute of London, England, by Dr. F. J. H. Campbell (left), and Dr. E. P. Johns (right), who have been working for five years on cancer research for the University of Western Ontario. Dr. Campbell has sailed for England to present the unpublished report which is said to contain many startling discoveries.

COMES TO CANADA

A New Racket

American License Plates Cause Quebec Officials Much Worry

Quebec, Que.—The range of human ingenuity in the "racket" business seems to be unlimited.

The latest twist of humanity's preoccupation to make or save money is revealed in a statement by Quebec highway officials. They say 1931 license plates of several American states have been imported in quantities, and sold to Canadians who have thus saved license registration fees.

The beautiful part of it all, for the offenders, is in the officials' confessed inability to deal with the offence severely, because of the great number of "real" American citizens at present touring the province.

Stay Was Limited

Churchill, Man.—Tired, wet, and bedraggled, the first man to get as far as Churchill in a cage-crashing attempt, arrived here aboard a wheat special. The grain train was carrying one car of the man. The man was unfastened from the jutting ends of the timbers. He suffered intense cold. He was sent south on the first train.

CHURCHILL WILL GOVERN FREIGHT RATES ON GRAIN

Churchill, Man.—Churchill will eventually govern freight rates on export grain from the west, according to the northern shipping men.

Shipping men believe that the strategic position of the port will have a wide influence over all other North American terminals. They base their forecast on the fact that Churchill is not only more accessible to the overseas ports, but that the saving in time of shipments en route, and consequent saving in interest on money tied up in cargoes, will bring great volumes of business here.

For instance, it is stated that while 16 days were occupied in taking the test shipments of last year across the ocean, the ship can make the voyage safely in 12 days if necessary.

It is pointed out that the Douglas steamers are high grade vessels, capable of 12 knots an hour. Wheat could be started from prairie ports and delivered in the European ports in three weeks.

This gives Churchill a decided advantage over Vancouver, where grain is delivered to ships, which must of necessity take as many as six weeks to deliver grain over the longer route.

Speaking of reports from Ottawa to the effect that special commissions, costing $5,000, would have to be installed in ships entering this port, harbor men here declare that the modern ships already are equipped with necessary instruments.

They also point out that no ports are necessary to bring ships in here. There is deep water all the way. Ships have radio protection and steam into Churchill in safety to find a deep water pier and safe anchorage.

Who gets the benefit of the saving in freight rates by shipping wheat via Churchill?

This was the question asked by the Prince Albert board of trade. It was shown that the rate from Prince Albert to Churchill was 20 cents per hundred pounds, as against 23 cents per 100 pounds from Prince Albert to Fort William.

It is said here that in the case of the sale by the pool to the Continental Grain Co. the local grain farmers are the losers, because the grain is sold on delivery here.

The grain is said to receive the market price of the country elevator, through the pool, which in turn ships it to Churchill, where it is bought "in storage" by the grain company.

It is pointed out that the grain company has nothing to do with that saving since they bid on wheat "in Churchill." It does not matter to them how it gets here, or what it costs.

The railways do not get the saving. In fact they do not receive as much revenue as they would if Churchill port were not open, and they get the longer haul to the lake head.

On the other hand the Saskatchewan pool, with five terminals at Fort William, where handling charges are collected, profits by no handling charges in this government elevator in Churchill. In order to encourage shipments, the government took off the handling charges on all shipments until after the end of August this year. The charges are approximately one and a quarter cents per bushel.

There is a saving on freight rates of one to three cents on the Churchill route, according to the locations of the northern prairie towns shipping export wheat.

FRENCH SUB IS LOST DURING MANOEUVRES

Cherbourg, France.—The French submarine "Promethee" plunged without warning under the waves off Cherbourg harbor while on a trial maneuver, taking down at least 60 men in 150 feet of water seven miles north of Cape Levé.

Seven members of the crew, including Lieutenant Du Mesnil, the ship's commander, were saved when they were hurled from the deck into the sea by the lurch of the vessel in its unexpected dive. They swam until they were picked up by a fishing boat.

Efforts to locate and salvage the submarine with its imprisoned occupants, begun immediately, were impeded by strong currents prevailing at that spot. Search for the sunken craft by naval planes was handicapped by miserable flying conditions, which made their job dangerous.

The submarine, in service only two years, was endeavouring to correct mechanical faults when it set out particularly for diving trials.

The ministry of marine at Paris said the "Promethee" had not been in perfect working order. Various adjustments had been found necessary before it could be deemed fit for a long voyage. It was in an effort to bring the machinery to perfection that the disastrous trials had been arranged.

It was estimated 49 members of the crew and 17 other men, including engineers and workmen, went down with the ship. The correspondent of the Paris newspaper "Le Matin" estimated the victims at 70.

Sensational Trial Ended

Mrs. Elvira Barney Acquitted Of Charge Of Murder

London, England.—A jury of 10 men and two women found that Mrs. Elvira Barney, 26-year-old daughter of a wealthy baronet, was not guilty of the murder of Thomas William Scott Stephen, her lover, who was shot to death in her flat after a party, May 31.

The verdict was reached after one hour and 53 minutes of deliberation.

Mrs. Barney collapsed when she heard it. A short time later, wholly freed, she left the Old Bailey and went to the home of her father and mother, Sir John and Lady Mullen.

The jury also acquitted Mrs. Barney on two other charges—one of manslaughter and another of intent to do Stephen, the son of a banker, grievous bodily harm by trying to shoot him during a quarrel a few weeks before his death.

Giant Stand Of Wheat

Ontario Farmer Has Grain Over Five Feet High

London, Ont.—Farmer Frank Spetig, of Westminister township, proudly shows his broad wheat fields after reading that the grain stands of the west, which promise to produce a better-than-average yield, are about three feet tall. And the reason for Farmer Spetig's pride hangs on the fact that his wheat right now averages five feet, four inches in height. The giant stand is believed to set a record for the district at this date.

It is said here that the grain company has nothing to do with that saving since they bid on wheat "in Churchill." It does not matter to them how it gets here, or what it costs.

The railways do not get the saving. In fact they do not receive as much revenue as they would if Churchill port were not open, and they get the longer haul to the lake head.

The charges are approximately one and a quarter cents per bushel.

There is a saving on freight rates of one to three cents on the Churchill route, according to the locations of the northern prairie towns shipping export wheat.

Softball teams from Michel and Fernie invaded the district yesterday, with two Michel teams playing in Coleman and three Fernie teams in Hillcrest and Blairstown. Fernie ladies were defeated by the Blairstown Colonels by a 15-12 score, while the Crownstow Cleaners and Bowlers won easily from local teams and the Cleaners also winning their game at Hillcrest.

Mrs. M. A. Murphy, of Cowley, has a yellow rosebush in her garden that bore around four hundred roses this spring, with the blossoms being fairly massed together up and down the stems. The bush, which was set out three years ago, is of a deep orange yellow, with the largest and most vigorous blooms measuring over three inches across, being double and showing stripes of scarlet on the inner petals. She cannot account for this, as no red flowers grow near this bush.

Work is progressing rapidly on the grain galleries, which rise 80 feet above the quayside at Churchill port. Last year these galleries, which carry the grain to the deep sea ships, had only been constructed to a point where they permitted the use of five grain spouts. This year they are being extended right to the end of the wharf on the north, a distance of 1400 feet. There will be a total of 23 spouts. Four ocean steamers will be able to line up in a row. They can be loaded in a day. Some idea of the speed with which they may be loaded may be gained from the operation of Pool No. 7 elevator at Fort William, which loaded five and a half million bushels in six hours. The Churchill terminal house is practically a duplicate of the Twin Cities plant, except that the storage is not as large.
